Readmusync, multisensory experiences tailor-made to the reader

Readmusync is a content developer, a start-up developed by a multidisciplinary group of professionals who combine their experience and concerns in order to create attractive, innovative and high-quality products.

Synchronizing music, text and images immerses the reader into a multisensory experience

read + listen + feel = joy
SyncReading

It is the result of merging the reader itself, art and science into a world halfway between cinema, music and literature: With the help of different technological and emotional resources, we offer our followers the possibility to live unique, unforgettable moments in a tremendously deep personal way.

We rely on the imagination as a catalyst for feelings. We want to show the power in one's subconscious and imagination in order to visualize lots of different impulses while reading or listening.
